Numb. 13111. [473]

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday July 4, to Tuesday July 7, 1789.

Whitehall, July 7.

THE King has been pleased to approve and confirm the Election of John Cox Hippisley, Esq; Barrister and Doctor of Laws, to be Recorder of the Borough of Sudbury, in the County of Suffolk.

Whitehall, July 7.

The following Addresses having been transmitted to the Right Honourable William Wyndham Grenville, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been by him presented to the King: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the General Assembly of the Island of Barbadoes.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Representatives of the People of this your Majesty's most ancient Colony, humbly beg Leave to offer the Tribute of our unfeigned and fervent Congratulations on your Majesty's happy Recovery from your late Indisposition, and being thereby enabled to resume the personal Exercise of your Royal Authority; that Source of the most gracious Condescension, from which the Inhabitants of this distant Part of your Dominions have been long accustomed to derive the Blessings of a just and gentle Administration of Government, by that ready and benign Attention of your Majesty to relieve our Wants or to redress our Wrongs, as either the Disadvantages or Misfortunes of our Country, or the Abuse of delegated Power, have made our Appeal necessary to your Majesty for Favour or Protection.

May that Almighty Being, then, by whose Mercy and Goodness the best of Sovereigns has been thus happily restored to the most grateful and affectionate Subjects, long preserve your Majesty at their Head! dispensing the Felicities of a Reign, now more than ever endeared to them by the recent Danger of a most melancholy Deprivation; whilst your Majesty must enjoy the purest of all earthly Consolations, the peculiar Recompence of such exalted Virtue, the conscious Satisfaction, Sire, of reigning in the Hearts of your Subjects, even more powerfully than by the Laws and Statutes of the Realm over their Persons.

By Order of the House,

John Gay Alleyne, Speaker.

House of Assembly, May 12, 1789.

[Transmitted by John Brathwaite, Esq;]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Members of your Majesty's Council of Barbadoes, with Hearts impressed with every Sentiment of Duty and Loyalty, beg Leave humbly to offer our sincere Congratulations to your Majesty on your happy Recovery from your late Indisposition.

Sensible of the Happiness we have enjoyed under your Majesty's auspicious Reign, we must naturally feel the most lively Joy at having our Sovereign restored to His faithful Subjects, and that Health, so dear to us all, re-established; a Joy equal to the unfeigned Concern we felt at hearing of your Majesty's Illness.

We acknowledge, with all Thankfulness the Goodness of Almighty God in hearing the Prayers of an afflicted People, and in restoring your Majesty to the Wishes of your loyal and affectionate Subjects.

That your Majesty may long be continued to us, and that the Blessings of your benevolent Government may long be felt and acknowledged, will ever be the sincere Wishes of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects and Servants.

Council Chamber, May 12, 1789.

The following Address having been transmitted to the Earl of Ailesbury, Lord Chamberlain of Her Majesty's Household, has been by him presented to the Queen: Which Address Her Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Members of His Majesty's Council of Barbadoes, with the utmost Duty and Respect beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on the Recovery of your Royal Consort, our most Gracious Sovereign, from His late Indisposition.

We have felt a sincere Concern at your Majesty's Distress on that melancholy Occasion; a Distress which must naturally have resulted from that amiable Disposition, that conjugal Affection, and tender Sympathy, which your Majesty's Conduct has on every Occasion evinced. This Grief has been fortunately succeeded by a Joy equally sincere and strong at His Majesty's happy Recovery; a Joy which has been justly diffused throughout every Part of His Majesty's extensive Empire.

That your Majesty's Happiness may long, very long, continue uninterrupted, are the real Wishes of your Majesty's dutiful and faithful humble Servants.

Council Chamber, Barbadoes,
May 12, 1789.
